

WIN luxury stays in historic hotels

Worth
£2,000

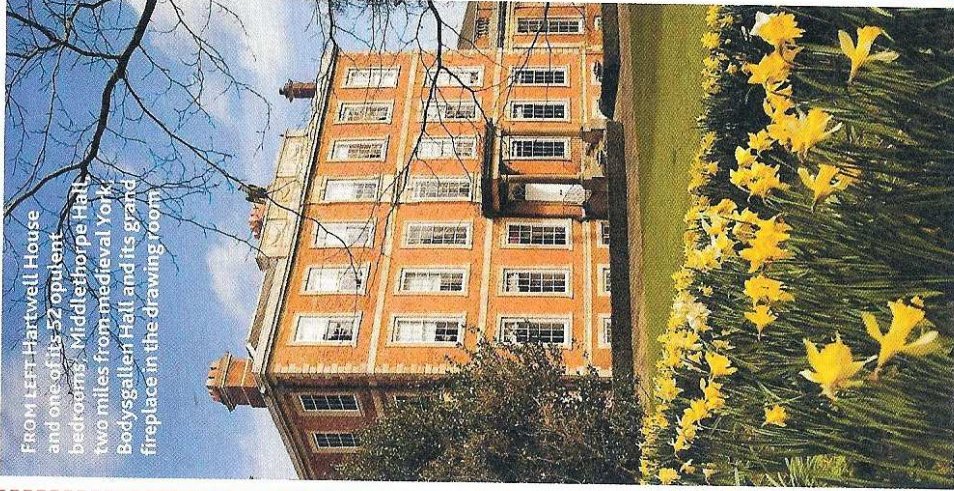

Lonely Planet Traveller has teamed up with the National Trust to offer one lucky reader and their guest three short breaks, one each to the charity's three Historic House Hotels (historichousehotels.com).

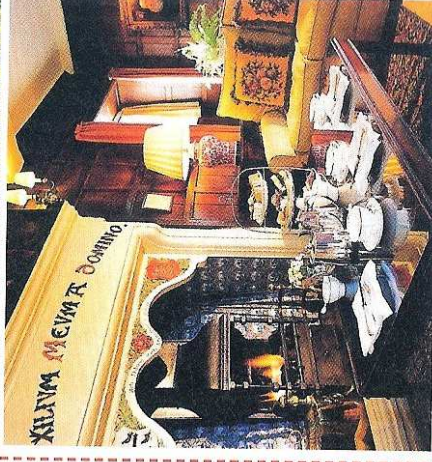

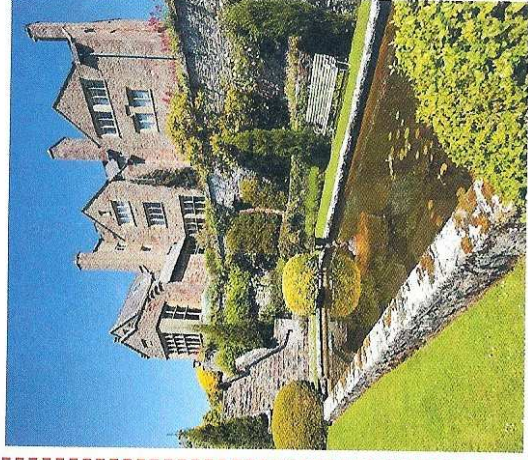

Visit the Grade I-listed Jacobean and Georgian Hartwell House, with its 90 acres of gardens in Buckinghamshire, that was the refuge of exiled King Louis XVIII of France; Middlethorpe Hall, in York, built in 1699 and home of celebrated 18th-century diarist Lady Mary Wortley-Montagu; and Grade-1 listed Bodysgallan Hall in North Wales, set in 200 acres of gardens and parkland, with views of Snowdonia and Conwy Castle.

Each hotel contains an award-winning restaurant serving breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner, along with a spa offering a wide range of beauty and relaxation treatments, and an indoor pool.

In 2008, the three properties which make up the Historic House Hotels were donated to the National Trust to ensure their long-term protection, and all profits now go to the benefit of the houses and the charity.
