PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE PERFECT

Hartwell House, one of England's stately homes, just forty miles north west of London, was restored by Historic House Hotels on their third project after Bodysgallen Hall in North Wales, and Middlethorpe Hall in York. As an hotel it offers luxury and every modern amenity in a magnificent setting.

The house has both Jacobean and Georgian features with outstanding decorative ceilings and panelling, fine paintings and antique furniture in its elegant and spacious rooms.

It has a remarkable history: its most famous resident was Louis XVIII, exiled King of France, for five years from 1809. In 1938 the house and estate were rescued by Ernest Cook, an early hero of the conservation movement.

In 2008 Historic House Hotels and the interests in all its properties were donated to the National Trust.

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE PERFECT

The large and historic public rooms provide magnificent settings of great comfort for relaxing with friends and enjoying the imaginative cooking of our chef.

The dramatic Gothic hall and staircase with its Jacobean carved figures lead to 30 superbly appointed bedrooms and suites, some named after the members of the Court of Louis XVIII.

“HARTWELL IS
THE BEST THAT CAN HAPPEN
TO A GREAT HOUSE IF
THERE IS NO
FAMILY TO GUARD IT”

Sir Simon Jenkins

Hartwell House stands in 94 acres of parkland, landscaped by a contemporary of Capability Brown, with a lake spanned by a stone bridge, a ruined church and many 18th century statues and garden buildings.

On the approach to Hartwell House, flanking magnificent iron gates is Hartwell Court containing 10 suites and 6 bedrooms, all decorated to the same high standards as those in the house. Many have garden views and are ideal for guests seeking seclusion and privacy, or who wish to be accompanied by their pets.

HOUSE, AN AUTHENTIC,
GRAND
COUNTRY HOUSE”

Country Life

The Hartwell Spa is housed in a splendid building modelled on an orangery and contains a generous-sized swimming pool, spa bath, steam room, saunas, hot tub and a well equipped gymnasium.

There are four treatment rooms providing a wide range of treatments by highly trained consultants. In the gallery overlooking the pool is the Spa Café an informal restaurant serving drinks and light meals throughout the day. There are two all-weather tennis courts nearby in the gardens.

“A HOTEL YOU CAN BANK ON”

The London Evening Standard

The air conditioned Hartwell Rooms, with wireless broadband, provide an up to date and sophisticated venue for top level meetings and private social occasions. Other rooms in Hartwell House itself, ideal for private parties from eight to sixty, are the Soane, Doric and Octagon Rooms. The chef will provide menus to suit every occasion from a Summer luncheon to a formal dinner party.

The Hartwell Rooms are also available for wedding civil ceremonies and receptions for up to sixty. For smaller weddings, have your ceremony in the Hartwell Rooms or the Soane Room and wedding breakfast in the Doric or Octagon dining Rooms.

The Old Rectory, carefully restored with new services and up-to-date communications provides the ideal setting of great comfort and privacy for small meetings and social gatherings.

It offers drawing, meeting and dining rooms, a superbly appointed master four poster bedroom with sitting room and three other bedrooms with bathrooms, and all with views of Hartwell Church and its cedars with the parkland beyond.
